

Resume/ Curriculum Vitae

I, Dr. Preeti Bajaj am currently working as Professor and Head of Department of Pathology at MVP's Dr. Vasant Rao Pawar Medical College, Hospital and Research Centre, Nashik. After my undergraduate MBBS study, I did postgraduation in Pathology and then did Fellowship in FAIMER (Foundation for advancement in Medical Education and Research) from the prestigious Christian Medical College, Ludhiana. A teacher for the last 20 years and teaching being my utmost passion, I have received the best teacher award based on student feedback for the year 2010-2011 at my previous institute. I have co-authored two textbooks on Hematology and Transfusion Medicine. I am Editor of MVP Journal of Medical Sciences, a National Indexed multispecialty medical journal since 2014. My special interests are Medical Education and Haematology and have successfully performed more than 10,000 bone marrow aspirations and biopsies. I have been nominated for Dr. J.S. Bajaj Award by the National Academy of Medical Sciences, New Delhi for the best research contribution in the field of Medical Education for four consecutive years (2015-2018). Short Term Studentship (STS) awarded to my student of MBBS-III of Dr. Vasant Rao Pawar Medical College Hospital & Research Centre, Nashik for a period of two months during 2016 under my guidance for the project entitled, "Association of vitamin B12 deficiency worsening peripheral neuropathy in Type-2 Diabetes Mellitus undergoing Metformin therapy". I have been a PG guide for various dissertations of Postgraduate MD Pathology students. I am also a NABH Certified Internal Auditor. To keep myself updated in the Field of Pathology and Diagnostics, I have actively organized, chaired, and attended Conferences and CMEs in Pathology at State and National levels. I have been a member of Goonj Foundation, a non-profitable NGO and have worked for the upliftment of the underprivileged children of the society. I firmly believe in the motto "Work is worship".
